

This little brother evidently knows how to play doctor, in a real earnest. He knows about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. His mother told him. Her mother told her, and her grandmother told her mother. It's the one standard cough medicine for children.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is entirely free from narcotics or poison of any kind. It is the great remedy the world over for colds, coughs, croup, whooping-cough, influenza, la grippe, and all bronchial complaints.

Accept no substitute or cheap and worthless imitation. Be sure you get Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Put up in large and small bottles.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., U.S.A.

KETCHEL MAY HAVE CHANCE

The Johnson-Ketchel disagreement looked to be settled in twenty rounds or under at Colma next Saturday afternoon, may see history repeat itself.

When Corbett first faced the mighty Sullivan, back in the dim past, he had on paper no better chance than Stanley Ketchel will have when he faces the black champion.

But Corbett knew the enemy's weakness, and for more than ten rounds he fled from before the awful wrath of the perspiring champion, who called on him with loud voice to stand and be slain without fuss.

The way in which Corbett sprinted around the ring, with Sullivan in full pursuit, was regarded as a prime joke by the humorists of the day. Somewhere about the twelfth round the anxious and very winded John L. caught the elusive "Gentleman Jim," and was sorry that he had caught him.

Corbett came out of his shell and really began to fight, and the manner in which the rising champion treated him, are matters of history.

If Ketchel can only evade the top-heavy Black Streak for the first thirteen rounds, and keep him moving at a good bat all that time, it is quite probable that from then on Brudner Johnson will find the hurricane methods and the physical fitness of the boy from Michigan more than he can cope with.

Ketchel has a box full of knock-out-punches, and unless the man from Africa enters the ring in the very best of condition, the Michigan Assassin has at least an even chance of doubling his opponent up with a punch in the commissariat.

MAORILAND MARATHON

An Australian exchange received by the S. S. Marama yesterday gives an account of a Marathon recently run at Invercargill (N. Z.).

Most of the thirteen starters fell by the wayside but one Donald Stew. Arrived at and finished first in 3 hours, 22 1/2 minutes, with E. Allen taking second money 1 1/2 minute later.

The pathos of the situation was that Invercargill is "dry," and the prohibitionists watched the fainting Marathoners closely to see that they entered no "blind pigs" on the way.

SPORT DRIFT

Nothing definite has been done in the matter of the proposed long-distance running race and it looks as if the matter might be allowed to drop owing to the arbitrary demands of Tsukamoto and his managers.

The third game of the world's championship baseball series was won by the Pittsburgh by the score of 8 to 6.

Next Saturday at the League grounds the High School will play a game of intercollegiate football with a town team.

The Johnson-Ketchel fight has been postponed till next Saturday at 3 p. m. The fight is scheduled to be of twenty rounds' duration.

Nigel Jackson has issued a challenge to Tsukamoto, Anton Kaoo, G. K. Charlie and Herbert Cordeiro, to run their ten miles on any date they may name.

John McCandless has been elected captain of the High School football team.

The schedule of the games of the Oahu Senior Baseball League to be played at the Athletic Park, follows:

October 17—K. A. C. vs. J. A. C.; U. S. M. C. vs. C. A. C.

October 24—U. S. M. C. vs. J. A. C.; K. A. C. vs. C. A. C.

October 31—K. A. C. vs. U. S. M. C.; C. A. C. vs. J. A. C.

November 7—C. A. C. vs. U. S. M. C.; J. A. C. vs. K. A. C.

November 14—C. A. C. vs. K. A. C.; J. A. C. vs. U. S. M. C.

November 21—C. A. C. vs. J. A. C.; K. A. C. vs. U. S. M. C.

November 28—J. A. C. vs. K. A. C.; U. S. M. C. vs. C. A. C.

December 5—U. S. M. C. vs. J. A. C.; K. A. C. vs. C. A. C.

GOOD CATCH OFF MOANA

Archie Robertson, L. Gay, George Harris and two natives made a good catch while fishing from a canoe off the Moana Hotel last Sunday morning.

They landed between them eight pua, four red weke and four ulua. The biggest fish was a weke weighing twelve pounds which was caught by Robertson. The total catch weighed sixty-five pounds.

The members of the party were using some new hooks for the first time, which had been recently received from England.

STYLE MUST BE STUDIED

The articles on training for long-distance running which have appeared in these columns have touched on work, sleep and diet, and the subjects of pace and form will be discussed in this third and closing article.

Going on the supposition that when a man enters a long distance race he knows perfectly well just what his capabilities are, he should by all means thoroughly master the questions of pace and style. There is no reason why a man should not prepare his own schedule in advance; knowing his own capabilities he should run according to a schedule, the first five miles to be done in such a time, ten miles in so much time and fifteen, twenty or twenty-five miles in just so much time.

In that way his advisor on a bicycle can keep him posted, and when the day of the contest arrives he will not run his head off in the first part of the race.

Lack of attention to proper pace has always been a potent factor in the losing of long distance races, and not only is the race frequently sacrificed in this way, but also a good position at the finish.

Of course the average runner, if he is young at the game, knows very little about pace; he has not yet arrived at the stage where he can use his head.

This has been proved in practically all of the long-distance races run here, the case of Herbert Cordeiro in the Athletic Park ten miles being a case in point. Had Cordeiro run with more judgment in the earlier stages of the race and reserved his strength for the finish, it is the writer's opinion that he would have come very near beating Kaoo and the Japanese.

With regard to style, the arms should be held naturally, loosely and nearly straight, with the slight forward inclination.

The best and most effective style of running is close to the ground and with the least waste of energy. High leg action should be avoided and the effort should seem to be made from the hips down.

Both Jackson and Connie Hayes are good stylish runners whose form may safely be imitated.

ACQUAINTED WITH THE METHODS

He was a bright young lawyer, but very bashful in the affairs of love, though he was deeply in love with a young woman who was celebrated among her friends for her repartee. The only obstacle in the way of the young man was his exceeding shyness; for, while always in perfect command of himself in the court room he became almost speechless in the presence of his adored one. As one method of showing his affection, it was his custom to shower her with presents.

The mother of the young woman was not at all satisfied with the status of the case, and spoke to her daughter about the latter.

"My dear," she said, "you have let Mr. Burnlight practically monopolize your society for a year, and now you have scarcely any other callers. Has he ever given you to understand that his intentions are serious?"

"No, he has not said anything, mamma; but I know they are."

"How can you know it, child, when he has said nothing?"

The girl smiled, self satisfied. "Well, mamma," she replied, "you know he is a lawyer, and lawyers always begin a contract with 'Know all men by these presents.'"

A REMEDY THAT CURES COLIC.

"Some time back I had a very bad attack of colic," said Mrs. C. Pienaar of Middleburg, Cape Colony. "I saw an advertisement in the paper of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which I at once got from the chemist, Mr. W. C. Turpin. After I had used the first dose I got better, and when the bottle was finished I was well. I can safely recommend it to any one who suffers from colic. It is the best I ever used." For sale by all dealers, Benson Smith & Co., agents for Hawaii.

A LIMIT TO EVERYTHING.

"Here!" shouted the railway official. "What do you mean by throwing those trunks around like that?"

The porter gasped in astonishment, and several travelers pinched themselves to make sure that it was real. Then the official spoke again.

"Don't you see that you're making big dents in the concrete platform?"
